COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

FRIDAY EVENING, 20TH APRIL 1877.

CONSOLS in London yesterday advanced from 94¼ to 95¼ and French Rentes from 104½ to 105¼, but in the face of to-day's telegrams it is difficult to account for the improvement. Not only does war between Russia and Turkey seem more certain than ever, but the remark made by Lord Derby as to the protection of British interests indicates how strong the probability is that England may be involved in the struggle.

The Liverpool Cotton Market yesterday, Reuter says, closed steady, sales 10,000 bales, but spot prices show a decline of 1/16d. in Fair Omra and ⅛d. per lb. in G. F. Ginned Broach and G. F. Hingunghat. In arrivals we do not hear of any change. Piece Goods in Manchester are said to be steadier, but both in Goods and Cotton there is nothing to warrant higher prices just yet, on the contrary an actual declaration of war would probably cause at least a temporary decline.

Yesterday's telegrams from New York quoted Mid-Uplands still at 11¼ cents., July shipment at 11¼ cents. per lb. The Receipts at the ports to date are as follows :—

	1877. This week.	Last week.	1876.	1875.
Thursday's Receipts.....	1,000	2,000	3,000	3,000
Six days' do.	16,000	19,000	24,000	19,000
Total since 1st Sept.	3,779,000	.....	3,884,000	3,279,000

In the London General Produce Markets Coffee and Cocoa Nut Oil continue unchanged but seeds are again higher, Bombay Linseed by 1s., Calcutta 6d., and Ferozepore Rapeseed 2s., per quarter.

The weekly quotations for Metals show no movement of any kind.

Enfaced Rupee Paper in London is lower, Fours and Fours-and-a half one and Fives-and-a-half a-halfper cent. since Saturday.

The Bank of England return for the week ending on Wednesday shows an increase of £300,000 in the Reserve of Notes and £200,000 in Bullion, Discounts being unchanged. The proportion of the Reserve to Liabilities now stands at 42¼ as against 41 15/16 per cent. last week, and the rate of discount on 6 months' sight Bank Bills having at the same time receded to 2½ per cent., the tendency of the Money Market is evidently easier.

Bar Silver is still quoted by Reuter at 55d. per oz., nor do we hear of anything to the contrary from private sources. Reuter reports no shipments of Silver by yesterday's P. and O. steamer from Southampton, but private advices report shipments of about £450,000 chiefly for Bombay, and fully as much is expected by the following steamer. These imports do not of course afford any immediate relief, but they increase the prospect of greater ease towards the end of next month.

STERLING EXCHANGE to-day opened quiet on the basis of 1s. 9 7/16d. for demand Bank Bills, and 1s. 9⅛d. for 3 months' sight sight credits, but it was evident at the same time that the Banks were much more willing buyers than sellers, and Calcutta telegram coming weak, a further decline of fully 3 16d. per rupee was established during the afternoon. Even at this level, however, sellers have quite withdrawn from the market, the sales of private paper having been insignificant in the extreme, while Banks' drawing rates are quite nominal, the disposition evidently being to avoid selling on almost any terms. In this state of the market we are bound to accept the pressure in money as being over for the time being, and if such is really the case it is quite on the cards that we may see a rapid collapse in exchange, but it is difficult to believe that money can have altered all at once from extreme scarcity to absolute ease, and we should be more inclined to depend on the permanence of the decline if it took place more gradually. To-day's closing quotations are :—

Bank Bills, on demand.....	.....	1s. 9¼d. per rupee.
Do 6 months' sight		1s. 9 9-16d. ,,
Credits 3 ,,	,, ...	1s. 9½d. ,,
Documents, 3 ,,	,, ...	1s. 9 11-16d. ,,

On Calcutta the rate for demand drafts is irregular and the nearest quotation we can give is par. For 60 days' sight we quote 98 to 98⅛, a small amount having been negotiated at the latter rate.

GOVERNMENT PAPER is as much a matter of uncertainty as ever, and it is difficult to give reliable rates. Some small pieces of Fours are said to have been sold at Rs. 84, but we should call Fours and Fours-and-a-half Rs. 93¼ to 93⅛, Fives and-a-half Rs. 99¾.

THE SHARE MARKET continues dull with only a limited business passing. Bank shares are unchanged as also are Press Companies and in Land Company's shares the only movement is a decline of Rs. 10 in Colabas. Spinning and Weaving Company's shares are somewhat irregular. Morarjee Goculdass have declined Rs. 20, Alliance Rs. 15, Alexandra and Jewraz. Balloo Rs. 10, Bombay United, Bombay Hemp and Jute, Broach Mills and Colaba Rs. 5 per share. In Manockjee Petits there is an advance of Rs. 10 and in Dhurrumsey, Flemings and Nursey of Rs. 5 per share. Bombay Burmah Trading Co's shares are Rs. 20 higher.

COTTON to-day, owing to the reaction in Exchange, has been very firm with an advance in prices of Rs. 2 per candy all round. A fair extent of business has been done but not so much as would have been but for the firmness of sellers, who, as a general rule, seem disposed to keep out of the market. The receipts yesterday were 13,780 bales, making a total of 70,124 bales for the seven days against 64,220 for the corresponding week last year and 68,209 bales in 1875. If reports from up-country are to be credited, however, arrivals are not likely to continue on this scale much longer, natives showing a disposition to store their Cotton in the districts in preference to accepting current rates. We quote :—

Good Omrs.	Ready.....	Rs. 175	per Candy f. p.
F. G. F. do.	.....	172	,, ,,
G. F. do.	,, ...	169	,, ,,
Good Dholleras	May	175	,, ,,
F. G. F. do.	,, ...	172	,, ,,
G. F. do.	,, ...	168	,, ,,

FREIGHTS are decidedly firmer to-day. In the morning business was done by Canal steamers for Liverpool at £1-15, but in the afternoon consignees have been holding for £1-17-6. By sailing ship there is an active enquiry and rates may now be quoted at £2-2-6 to £2-3-9 per ton.

PIECE GOODS are a trifle firmer, sellers being less disposed to force sales owing to the decline which has taken place in Exchange, but the extent of business doing is still small.

COALS continue strong and advancing, business having been done to arrive via Cape at a rise of As. 8 per ton.

April 18, 1877.

THE Times of India yesterday adduced very good proof that Dr. Cornish has complained of the Government of India suppressing his arguments against the famine policy initiated by Sir Richard Temple, and our mistake evidently arose from quoting only a partially complete copy of Dr. Cornish's report The fact, however, remains that Dr. Cornish has charged the Government of India unjustly, because it distinctly states that it has never received his reports; and we think that under the circumstances the least our contemporary could have done was to give prominence to this very important fact. Our contemporary still persists in asserting that Dr. Townsend has reported against the reduced scale of wages, and that the Government of India is afraid to publish his report, though, in the despatch to the Secretary of State which we published two days ago, it is distinctly stated that Dr. Townsend has reported in favour of the sufficiency of that scale.

THE local paper hears that it is settled that there is to be a Bishop of Lahore, and that His Lordship will make his appearance at Lahore about November next.

THE Friend of India hears from Mandalay that the King of Burma has taken a great liking to Colonel Wyndham, who is now General in his service. He is said to have offered him 8,000 acres of land for the cultivation of tobacco and has also promised to give him 200 convicts to work on the land.

COLONEL F. LOCH, Commanding at Ahmednuggur, has, the Pioneer believes, been appointed Political Resident at Aden. The same paper says that Brigadier-General J. S. Gell, Commanding the Bombay district, is about to go on leave, and Brigadier-General Phayre, Commanding at Nuseerabad, will succeed him.

HIS EXCELLENCY Sir Richard Temple, K.C.S.I., the Famine Delegate, arrived at Madras on Wednesday morning by the 6. A.M. mail train. The arrival of His Excellency was announced by a salute of fifteen guns from the saluting battery in the Fort. Sir Richard Temple proceeded to Government House from the Central Station.

IT is currently reported that one of the propositions to be brought forward at the public meeting yesterday in Calcutta of the British Indian Association against the proposed increased taxation in Bengal, would be the substitution of an increased salt duty for the public works and irrigation cesses. There is also some talk of suggesting an income tax; but this, the Englishman thinks, is hardly likely.

ONE of the most dangerous and disgusting practices in connection with the burial of their dead, the Madras Athenæum remarks, by the natives of the famine-stricken districts is that of carrying the bodies to the bank of the various rivers and there depositing them in the sand within considerably less than a foot of the surface, thus causing on their decomposition not only a horrible smell but the stagnation, and poisoning of the water. The practice has indeed become so common, that scarcely a day now passes without a corpse being interred in this way, often times even three and four, and unless the attention of the authorities is at once directed to the matter, serious and alarming consequences may sooner, or later, necessarily be expected to follow.

NOT very long ago the Government of India requested the opinion of the several local bodies in Calcutta, such as the Chamber of Commerce, the Trades' Association, and the British India Association, on the prospects of obtaining supplies of Government stores from local sources. The Englishman understands that some difficulty has been experienced in obtaining the required information, as the Government has not specified what classes of goods or in what quantities they would be required, or at what rates they have been obtained in previous years. As machinery would probably be required before any large contracts for local supplies could be entered into, it is hardly probable that definite answers can be given as to what articles can be supplied, unless further information of the nature indicated is furnished by Government.

THE Civil and Military Gazettes announces with the deepest regret the death from typhoid fever, on Saturday night, of Mr. Edward Reynolds, barrister-at-law. The deceased gentleman, adds our contemporary, joined the Bar of the Punjab shortly after the establishment of the Chief Court, and he not only acquired a high reputation as a lawyer, but he was esteemed and respected by all who had the privilege of knowing him. Thoroughly grounded in his profession, possessing fine abilites, and an amiable disposition, his death in the prime of manhood will not only be an irreparable loss to his unhappy family, but it will be difficult to supply his place at the Bar, of which he was one of the most distinguished members. The deceased gentleman was buried on Sunday evening in the Anarkulli Cemetery, all the members of the Bench and Bar, and a large number of residents of Lahore, representing all classes of the community, attending the funeral.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Pioneer, writing on the 15th instant from Ranikhet, where the Viceroy had arrived the day before from Naini Tal, says :—"Early this morning we were visited by a somewhat severe shock of an earthquake, or rather I should say by two shocks; the first occurring about 1 A. M., and the second, which was perhaps the more severe, about two hours afterwards. So violent were the trembling and heaving during the 'quake' that doors and windows rattled loudly as if shaken by some rude hand. Beams and rafters groaned and creaked ominously, plaster cracked and dropped on all sides, and in many cases bedsteads vibrated with sufficient force to rouse the occupants in a strange and by no means pleasant manner. The wave of the shock seemed to pass from S. E. to N. W., but it is difficult to estimate its duration, as no one who experienced its effects appears to have had either the presence of mind or the means at hand to time it. It would seem, however, to have effected a beneficial change in our weather, as to-day is bright and balmy—a contrast indeed to the dull leddon skies and cutting winds we have been enduring for some weeks past."

THE following statistics, which we quote from the Medical Examiner, illustrate the tendency which has prevailed for the last few years to make a run on certain favourite remedies :—In 1855 the central Pharmaceutical Establishment of the Parisian Hospitals furnished 282lb. of chloroform; in 1875 the quantity had risen to 616lb. The increase of chloral from 1869 to 1875 was from 10lb. to 720 lbs. Bromide of potassium 6lb. in 1855, 1,600lb. in 1875; morphine 1lb. 6oz. in 1855, 20lb. in 1875. The progress of alcohol, considered as a therapeutical agent, is especially worthy of notice. Between 1865 and 1875 the consumption of alcohol in the hospitals increased from 1,270 to 40,000 quarts. Brandy does not appear on the list until 1862, and four quarts were supplied. In 1875 the quantity had risen to 4,108 quarts. Rum followed nearly the same rate of progression, during the same time, from 35 to 5,682 quarts. A remarkable fact brought to light by these statistics is that in proportion as alcohol rose leeches fell. Up to the year 1839 one million of leeches were annually supplied to the Parisian hospitals; during the last 12 years the annual supply has been about 50,000. It is to be borne in mind that the antiphlogistic and contra-stimulant methods had been chiefly applied to cases of more or less prolonged febrile excitement subsequently giving rise to considerable depression, in other words, to typhus and typhoid fevers. So long as the doctrines of Brodssais influenced French practice, depletion and starving were continued throughout the whole course of such cases. The returns from the Central Depot show that French practitioners have gradually accepted the views entertained in this country, and now adopt moderate stimulation combined with support in cases which were formerly treated by the lancet and the leech.

IN accordance with the familiar habits of the olden times, allowed to be revived on festal occasions of solemn import, the German Emperor received on his birthday an immense quantity of birthday gifts of every description from all parts of the country. Not to speak of a perfect flower garden flowers transported to the Palace in thousands of fragrant bouquets, there was a parterre of corn-flowers—the Emperor's favourite flower—grown in hot houses, and presented as an earnest of the coming season. Of the other gifts there may be mentioned a Brunswick sausage 6ft. high, a gigantic aquarium containing a sea of transparent jelly, with 80 fishes ready for the table, an Easter egg of corn-flowers and hyacinths, reaching to the roof of the hall, an embroidered arm-chair, a penknife and scissors described as a marvel of the mechanic art, &c. The telegrams received at the Palace amounted to many thousands. The reception at the old Palace came to a close at 1 A. M., the party being allowed a glance at Werner's pictures of the Emperor's Proclamation at Versailles as they passed through the gallery to the anterooms. When presenting this, the highest and certainly one of the most striking paintings of modern times, to the Emperor, the King of Saxony, surrounded by Sovereigns and Princes, delivered the following address :—"Your Majesty.—The day on which your Majesty celebrates the 80th birthday, in unimpaired vigour and health, has been selected by the German Sovereigns and Republics to express their joy at this happy event and their attachment to your Imperial Majesty. This painting represents one of the most important occurrences in the history of Germany and in the eventful life of your Imperial Majesty. It perpetuates the moment when your Majesty, complying with the expressed desire of the German Sovereigns and Republics, revived the Imperial dignity lost to our nation at a period of French usurpation. Your Majesty by this act sanctioned the result of our common struggles and victories. If we may add a wish, it is this, that your Majesty may reign in undisturbed peace for many years to come over the Empire re-established on the battle-field. May God grant it!"

TURKISH AFFAIRS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, 28TH MARCH.

SPRING, the bright season of promise, of Nature's returning life, of fresh fields and sweet scented blossoms—the season marked by Providence for enjoyment and happiness—comes to us this year, laden with anxiety regarding the momentous issues at stake, and which the return of fine weather must soon decide whether for good or evil. After a week of alternate hope and fear, the expectation of a peace which seemed all but secured has disappeared, and the future again becomes darkened by the dreaded phantom which we fondly hoped had been conjured away; as matters now stand, every day of bright sunshine brings the threatened danger nearer to our door.

Of the principal parties concerned in the coming struggle, the Turks await the development of events with the greatest equanimity. This calmness may be traced to two causes: the superstitious reliance of the Osmanli in the unalterable decrees of fate, and his deep-rooted belief that, notwithstanding whatever may have been said to the contrary, England will range herself on his side when the dogs of war are actually unloosed. This belief is not confined to Constantinople, or to official circles; it is the accepted doctrine all over the Empire, and the village politician in remote districts will quietly and calmly assure you, between the whifs of his pipe, that England's "Kismet" is bound up with Turkey's,—that England knows as well as he does that war between Russia and Turkey means war between Russia and England as well. Indeed, the prominence given to Turkish affairs by the English Government and the nation in general is a strong argument in favour of his theory that British and Turkish interests are identical. Holding life cheap and indifferent to suffering, the humanitarian side of the question is not appreciated by the Turks; at all events it does not constitute in their eyes a sufficient cause for the warmth of discussion which the Turkish complications have raised in England.

Meantime, at Constantinople there is little to remind us that another fortnight may find us plunged in war. The passage of troops is over; the landing of war material effected at the Imperial arsenals passes unnoticed; the people are not more troublesome than usual, and the Christians do not hold their lives in their hands or their property and honour at the good pleasure of their Mussulman oppressors, as some would have the world believe; and yet both Moslem and Christian have grievous cause of complaint, the great and widespread distress is on the increase, and employment is wanting alike for the middle and lower classes. The fatal decree of the 6th October reduced the rich to comparative poverty and swept away the savings of thousands of thrifty hard working people. The Government employés have long arrears of pay to receive, and, even when paid, the amount will be terribly reduced by the depreciation in the paper currency. Caime issued at par is now worth but half of its nominal value, so that a man whose monthly salary was 600 piastres in good money now receives but 300 piastres effective, although nominally paid the original 600. The Department of Posts and Telegraphs was the last to be affected by this change; and an attempt made last week to introduce the new system was the signal for a general strike. The employés in a body petitioned the Grand Vizier, and they waited for the coming out of the Sultan from mosque with a like purpose, but his Majesty, having a nervous horror of crowds, slipped away by water and sped across the Bosphorus to one of his palaces on the Asiatic shore. The petitioners, however, were not to be baulked. Taking likewise to the water, they followed the Sultan to his retreat, and made themselves heard through the medium of one of the Imperial Secretaries. His Majesty promised that the matter should be attended to, and the result has been that the "manipulators" and "linemen" who could not easily be replaced have carried their point and are to be paid as heretofore, whilst the less important employés had no choice left them but to leave their work on full wages, or starve. The credit of this brilliant stroke of economy is due to an educated Armenian, a Christian, Yaver Pasha, the Director of Posts and Telegraphs.

Edhem Pasha and his Cabinet are working smoothly enough; the latter more remarkable for commonsense and prudence than for brilliancy of talent. The Minister of War is its great blot, but supported as he is by the Palace, his colleagues must put up with him for the present.

Palace intrigues do not form just now a prominent feature of Constantinople gossip. The fact is that Mahmoud Damad, finding himself isolated, with the Minister of War as sole ally, has become alive to his danger, and, aware of the deep hatred with which he is regarded, has begun to draw in his horns a little. It may be also that his activity in stirring up the muddy waters of backstairs diplomacy has received a check from the suggestion made by the Sultan in order to clear up the numerous accusations brought against his favourite. "If you have any real cause of complaint against Damad Pasha, take your proofs to the Parliament and have the matter settled." This proposal, however, has not been acted on. The Turks hate above all things a public scandal, and the governing oligarchy shrink from establishing a dangerous precedent which might affect any of them at one time or other.

The new Parliament holds its sittings every day, except Fridays and Sundays. Some of the honourable members are gifted with the natural gift of eloquence, and have slipped into their Parliamentary seats as if to the manner born; but the greater number, especially the Christian Deputies, are silent and acquiescent. They all have to submit to a severe system of drilling from their tyrannical old President, Vefik Effendi, who seems to believe that the duties of his office and those of a schoolmaster are very nearly analogous. He has not actually laid the whip across the shoulders of refractory members, but theoretically, he threatens them with the worst of corporal punishment, and vents his feelings in expressive epithets. At present the Parliament furnishes more incident for talk and amusement than serious subjects of discussion, and tickets of admission to see Vefik and his pupils perform are eagerly sought for.

The feast of the Prophet's birthday commenced yesterday evening; the mosques and public buildings were lighted up, and, as I write, I see the Imperial Procession of State caïques gliding across from the Palace to Seraglio Point, where the troops are drawn up to receive the Sultan and escort him to the mosque of Sultan Ahmet. The reading of the Prophet's biography will form to-day the subject of religious meditation for the Mahomedan world.

We had been promised for the Easter holidays the excitement of a naval review and sham fight. Admiral Hobart is very proud of his ships and the smartness of his sailors, and is impatient to give the latter an opportunity to show the world that he does not overrate those merits. Ten days ago the chances of war, reduced to a minimum, had deprived the fleet of the prospect of reaping its laurels in real warfare, and Hobart Pasha had decided to give his men the minor satisfaction of proving their efficiency in sham fighting. But, since then, the threatening aspect of affairs has put all question of anything but serious work out of our minds, and yesterday the whole Ottomam fleet—forming a goodly sight of which any nation might be proud—steamed up the Bosphorus and took its position at the mouth of the Black Sea to be ready for offensive or defensive action.

FUND FOR THE RELIEF OF EUROPEAN AND EURASIAN POOR.—This fund was first suggested on the 21st November 1871, and has now been in active operation for five years. Its aim is, primarily, to relieve deserving European and Eurasian poor, who, from sickness or want of employment, often need temporary help; it supports also the aged and widows who are unable to maintain themselves or find work. Its mode of relief is by tickets for bread, rice, tea, sugar, and wood. In emergent cases, rent is paid; but no money is given, except under special circumstances. Where there is a fair prospect of employment elsewhere, railway fares are paid, a ticket being secured at the station. Relief given has been as under in 1876—Bread (loaves) 9,969; rice, lbs. 4,023, and wood, bundles, 8,513. Rev. T K. Weatherhead, assisted by Mr. Kopke, the City Missionary, afford, invaluable information and assistance.

MR. J. BATSON, OF THE ENGLISH OPERA BOUFFE COMPANY.—A correspondent points out an omission in our report of the performance at Miss May's benefit on Tuesday night last, at the Grant Road Theatre. No notice was taken of the acting of Mr. J. Batson as Hortensius; but we gladly supply the omission in the words of our correspondent who writes as follows: —"Mr. Batson's performance was a splendid bit of comedy acting, and from his first entrance until his final exit, he had the audience entirely with him—a fact plainly manifest from their applause—and yet Mr. Batson's presence seems to have been totally ignored by the press. He can come on the stage and go off, knows how to stand and take care of himself when not in action, and is easy, natural and, honest in delivery. These are the five cardinal virtues of a dramatic competitor; without them he is nothing, with them he may carry the world by storm. I consider Mr. Batson (and I am by no means alone in this opinion) to be a gentleman possessing great dramatic powers."

THE YARN TRADE.—Mr. Jehangeer Hormusjee, secretary, treasurer, and agent of the National Spinning and Weaving Company, has just addressed a letter to the secretary of the Millowners' Association, requesting him to call a meeting of its members to consider the subject of the combination entered into by certain native dealers in yarns not to purchase the articles from those mill companies which sell their products direct to firms trading with China or with upcountry constituents. The practice of mills selling their goods direct to such firms has been in vogue ever since the establishment of the industry in Bombay many years ago, and no distinction has ever been made by them between the dealers and such firms. These middlemen wish to create a monopoly, which would work prejudicially to the interests of the mills in Bombay. On Thursday a meeting of the native dealers was held, when it was unanimously resolved by them not to sell any yarn to Messrs. E. D. Sassoon or Mr. Jairaz Feerbhoy, who lately made purchases of yarn direct from some of the mills in Bombay.

FABRICATING A FALSE TELEGRAM.—On Thursday afternoon last, at the Girgaum Police Court, before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, a Hindoo, named Gunnoo Khundoo Dhore, was charged, at the instance of Appajee Babajee, with causing to be transmitted by telegraph a message to one Shurmajee Babajee at Poona, purporting to have been sent from Bombay by the said Appajee Babajee, in which telegram it was stated that one Sheveram Babajee, the brother of the said Appajee, was ill the prisoner knowing the said message to be false and fabricated. Mr. Nusserwanjee Nowrojee, pleader, appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Khunderao Morojee, solicitor, for the defendant. The evidence showed that the defendant was brother-in-law of the complainant, and for some time past had not been on good terms with his wife's relatives. One day in February last, complainant's brothers and the female members of their families went to Poona to condole with a sister of the complainant who had lost her child in Poona. But soon after they had reached their destination, the complainant's brother Dhurmajee, who permanently resided in Poona, received a telegram from Bombay, stating that Sheveram, another brother who had remained in Bombay, was dangerously ill, and that they should all come down to Bombay. On the receipt of that telegram, the party which had gone to Poona from Bombay along with those of their relatives who were residing there, at once took the train to Bombay, the old mother crying and beating her breast all the way. On their arrival at home, they were agreeably surprised to find Sheveram hale and hearty and chatting with some persons near the door of the house. They produced the telegram which had been received in the name of Appa, whereupon Appa and his brothers went to Mr. Superintendent Bailey, who ordered enquiries to be made at the Telegraph Office, and ultimately the prisoner was the author of the false telegram. The defendant was distinctly identified as the person who had caused the false telegram to be sent to Poona by the signaller of the Byculla railway station telegraph office. A railway clerk, who wrote the telegram at the defendant's request and a peon of the telegraph office who gave him the form, also identified him. The defendant remained at the station for several hours for a reply but none came as the party from Poona did not send any, but immediately left for Bombay. For the defence Mr. Khunderao stated that his client was ill with fever for several days about the time of the transmission of the telegram and had not been able to leave his bed. Defendant's father and a neighbour were called to prove that fact, but these two witnesses grossly contradicted each other. In disposing of the case, His Worship remarked that the evidence left no doubt in the mind of the Court as to the guilt of the prisoner. The law had provided severe punishment for such an offence—a long imprisonment for a period extending to three years, or fine, or both. The Magistrate further observed that within his experience this was the first case which had resulted in a successful prosecution though instances of the evil habit of sending false telegrams with the intention of annoying enemies had been brought to notice before. It was not long that it was found out, and that it was the defendants to whom respectable Parsee family were dragged down to Bombay in a sudden and painful manner by some miscreant sending a false telegram to the parties concerned, but the culprit was not discovered. In this case His Worship said that the guilt of the accused had been satisfactorily established, and it was his duty to inflict such a punishment as would be sensible under the circumstances. A warning to others, the prisoner was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment in the Common Jail. The Court during the proceedings was crowded to excess by the caste people of the parties.

RAIN.—We hear from Belgaum that very refreshing rain has fallen there; indeed the rain seems to have been general, for we have heard of showers at Mahableshwar, Ahmednagar, and towards the Ghaut ranges.—Deccan Herald.

SPECIAL PROVIDENCE.—We hear from Lanowlee of a sad accident which took place on Tuesday last at the reversing station. A child was playing on the railway line there, when a train ran over its hands, crushing both of them. We have not heard whether the child lived after the shocking mutilation. Native parents are very careless about their little children, and it seems to be a special providence that they ever live through their childhood.—Id.

AN OBSTINATE CHIEF.—We hear that the Government of Bombay have again given warning to the Chief of Sangle, that if he does not carry out the reforms that have been pointed out, and show himself capable of ruling independently, his fate will be similar to that of the Chief of Jutt. We thought that the Chief of Sangle had been making great exertions to improve his State, and had done a great deal to mitigate the famine in his dominions. As changes in the native advisers of His Highness have failed to accomplish the object desired by Government, how would it do to try what a change in the European advisers of His Highness would do? When we were at school, the master used to get a good deal of the blame if the pupils proved dull and unteachable.—Id.

POONA AKBAREE CONTRACT.—Surely there must be some truth in the rumours which reach us to the effect that after all that has passed the above contract is to be again disposed of privately. This contract a few years ago was publicly advertised as for sale for one year only, and, after all the contractors had given in their contracts, the present contractor got the contract not for one year, but for five years. This gave great dissatisfaction at the time, and there were numerous petitions on the subject presented to Government. We hear now that some of the old contractors have offered Rs. 15,000 per month, and that the present contractor has offered Rs. 17,000 per month, and that Government have been recommended to give him an extension of the contract for another term of years. We cannot vouch for the accuracy of the report but, after the manner in which the contract; was formerly disposed of, we cannot help feeling afraid that the report may turn out to be a correct one. If the report is true, we, for our part, cannot understand how Government can accept of private offers for public contracts, or dispose of such contracts by private sale.—Id.

THE ENGLISH OPERA BOUFFE COMPANY.

Arthur Sullivan's dramatic cantata "Trial by Jury," with full chorus by gentlemen amateurs, will be performed. The attraction is decidedly great and we may expect the theatre will be crowded. The evening's entertainment will commence with the operetta, "The Rose of Auvergne," Madame Rose will play "Home, Sweet Home" so that the interest of the audience will be well sustained throughout the evening.

THE SECRETARYSHIP OF THE MADRAS SPINNING AND WEAVING COMPANY.

CURSANDAS VULLUBDAS vs. DYAL RUTTONSEY AND ANOTHER.

At the High Court yesterday, Mr. Justice Green gave judgment in the above suit. Mr. Farran, instructed by Messrs. Shapurjee and Thakurdas, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Budroodin, instructed by Messrs. Jefferson and Payne, for the defendants.

The plaintiff sought to recover from defendants Rs. 42,000 (in addition to a sum of Rs. 5,000 as remuneration) as damages for breach of a contract. In August 1874, the defendants with Mr. M. R. de Quadros were appointed secretaries, treasurers, and agents of the Madras Spinning and Weaving Company for a period of ten years certain at a remuneration of Rs. 10,000 per annum and of 5 per cent. commission on the nett annual profits of the company payable from and after 1st October 1874. The first two defendants, Dyal Ruttonsey and Bhowansingjee Radhoobhoy, knew little of the management of mill business, and had to trust it to their third partner, Mr. M. R. de Quadros. The affairs of the mill, however, became subsequently much confused; the officers in the service of the company at Madras had grown insubordinate, and called the directors a "pack of fools." Finding the affairs of the company in such a state of confusion, the two defendants made Mr. Quadros to retire from the secretaryship in favour of the plaintiff. By an agreement, dated 8th June 1875, it was agreed that plaintiff should assist the defendants in the management of the business of secretaries of the company and should give advice to the best of his judgment, they in consideration thereof agreeing, for a period of ten years from 1st October 1874, and during every extension of the period, to pay him as remuneration one-third equal share of the profits. Plaintiff, as stated in the plaint, performed his part of the agreement and was ready and willing to give the necessary assistance and advice to the defendants, but the latter recently ceased to require such assistance and advice, and on 8th April 1876 caused a letter to be written to plaintiff to the effect that he (plaintiff) had terminated the agreement on the 15th March 1876. Plaintiff, in a letter of 10th April 1876, denied that he had teminated the agreement. The real object of the defendants in removing the plaintiff was said to be that they were negotiating for a sale of their office as secretaries, treasurers, and agents. Having failed to sell it to Messrs. Grindlay, Groom and Co., they finally sold it to Cowasjee Dinshaw and Sorabjee Tsmooljee. A sale of the office implied a sale of the large number of shares held by the defendants. They sold their 155 shares at Rs. 235 per share more than the market price. By written articles of agreement made on the 30th September 1876 the defendants agreed to use their best endeavours in getting or procuring the firm of Dinshaw Sorabjee appointed to the office of secretaries; and the latter covenanted to pay to the defendants Rs. 2,17,500 with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent., and agreed to defend the plaintiff's suit at their own costs, risk, and peril. Thus the defendants sold their office subject to the plaintiff's interest. There was due to plaintiff as remuneration Rs. 5,000; and in case it might appear to the Court that defendants had broken the agreement, he prayed that they might be decreed to pay him Rs. 42,000 as damages.

The defendants admitted the execution of the agreement of 8th June 1875, but submitted that the plaintiff's remuneration was to commence from the date of the agreement, and not from 1st October 1874. Plaintiff rendered all necessary assistance to them from 8th June 1875 to 15th March 1876, when he refused to do after the latter date. His remuneration amounted to Rs. 2,575, which sum defendants brought into Court. In March 1876, plaintiff was requested to go to Madras to look after the affairs of the mills there in pursuance of the object and intention of the agreement, but he distinctly refused to go. Defendants agreed to the cancellation of the agreement on plaintiff's request made through the accountant of the company.

Mr. Justice Green said the agreement with the plaintiff was prepared after much consideration, and therefore no fresh term could be imported into it. There was no express obligation on the part of the plaintiff to go to Madras; nor was any implied duty imposed upon him by a necessary inference from the agreement. Plaintiff denied that he was ever asked to go to Madras or that he ever refused to do so. The conclusion his Lordship came to was that the defendants' story as to plaintiff's putting an end to the agreement was wholly unfounded; and that it was the defendants who had wished to get rid of the agreement circuit, asking blessings, and saying prayers of repentance at certain corners and the two central pillars and at the closed window (a small hole scooped out in the wall) at the instruction of our Mutawif. Whilst praying, I happened to step on the prostrate body of some person who had perhaps fallen down by the crush of the crowd, or been overcome by the heat; but at this time we were told to repeat two prostration prayers, (it then struck me that the man might have been praying) which being quite impossible then, I reserved till we had come out. The heat and crush were so great that the perspiration ran down in streams, and we could scarcely recognise others with whom we came into contact. Having emerged in this distressed and uncomfortable state, we said the prayers that we could not repeat inside.

The Khwajah Saras (eunuchs) stationed at the doorway and on the staircase struck the pilgrims with their canes, instead of maintaining order. This irregularity and its consequent inconvenience could be obviated by allowing only a certain and reasonable number of pilgrims to enter the House at a time, an arrangement which would enable pilgrims to perform their religious ceremonies thoroughly and conveniently.

15th Zikadah.—Saturday, 2nd December.

This being the general dakhili day set apart for women alone, I took over my female relatives after luncheon, and saw them ushered into the Kabah (the House of God), where they performed all the rites in comfort, the crowd being much less than during the day for males.

16th Zikadah.—Sunday, 3rd December.

At eight o'c ock in the morning Abubakar sent over three lads to act as guides for ziyarat (visitation of tombs and other holy places.) First we visited the residence of Hazrat Usman, the third Caliph of the Prophet (God's peace be unto him !) where we repeated two prostration prayers, solicited his benediction, recited fateha (prayer for the dead) and left. On the way said fateha at the shrine of the saint Syed Abdur-Rahman Mahajub, and visited the burial ground Jannati Shahkah, and the tomb of Syed Idrus outside the cemetery compound. Next we ascended the Jabal Umar, where is the house in which Hazart Umar, the second Caliph of the Prophet, was born; it has been demolished but a small portion of wall still remains. A little further is a huge stone having the form of a camel; the lads our guides informed us that it was riding camel of the Caliph turned into stone. After descending the hill we came to the residence of Amir Hamzah, the celebrated warrior and a paternal uncle of the Prophet of God; the next is the house in which Hazrat Abubakar, the first Caliph, was born, with a dome over it. Then comes the place where Hazrat Umar confessed the religion of Islam and avowed his belief in it.

We now ascended the western mountain called the Jabal-al-Kubais; whereon is the site devoted to worship by His Holiness the most celebrated Syed Abdul Kadir Jilani, ranked first amongst Mahomedan saints. Then follows Hazrat Bilal's mosque. This was the favourite associate of the Prophet (God's peace be unto him !) and possessed a very sweet voice. He daily issued cries five times for prayers. Next we come to the spot where Hajar-al-aswad (the black stone) descended from heaven. On enquiring of my Mutawif, Abubakar, he informed me that this stone was originally white, and called Hajar-al-abyad (the white stone), but has turned black by the kissing of the pilgrims, whose sins it extracts by that act, and they are then purged of all their sins and rendered spotless and innocent. Then comes the place where the holy Prophet once had luncheon; and it is Sunnat (the tradition of the Prophet) for all true believers to follow his example. As we had been apprized of this before ascending the hill, we had purchased some dates, bread, and kabobs (roast meat), of which we then partook along with the three lads. The last place to be visited here was where the true Prophet of God performed the miracle of splitting the moon. I term him true prophet advisedly, and according to my belief, as also to convince unbelievers that his prophecies have been fulfilled, as shown in the Old and the New Testaments, and demonstrated by my friend Maulavi Syed Ahmed, Khan Bahadoor, C. S. I., (see the Essay in his Life of Mahomed.). I may refer my readers for the miracle in question to the book entitled the "Isbat-ul-Akhbar," written in Urdu, and lithographed at Cawnpore in A. H. 1283, A. D. 1867.

We then descended from the hill and inspected the birth places of Hazrat Ali, the chosen Prophet of God, Muhammad (may the peace of God be with him !) A splendid dome covers this house. The third was the tomb of Kazi Usman Rawi. All these three places are situated inside the city.

Jannat-i Mualla is the designation of the principal cemetery at Makkah, where we next proceeded. It lies to the north, outside the environs of the city. We offered up fateha at every grave on our way, as we had done before. The first sepulchre was that of Syed Umar Iesbi; the next of Shaikh Ibrahim Rashid; then followed those of Syed Muhammad-Al-Fashi, the founder of the Silsilah-i-Rafa-i; Abdallah bin Zubair; Asimah Bibi, daughter of Abubakar the first Caliph; Syed Usman Marghani Sahibain; Mulla Abdul Bari; Abdur Rahman Ibn-l-Abu Bakar; Shaikh Muhammad Jan Naksbandi; Bibi Khade-jat-ul-Kubra, mother of Bibi Fatimah (may God be pleased with her !); Bibi Aminah, mother of the Prophet (God's peace be unto him !); Syed Idrus; Abu Talib. In most of these places are several beggars besides the custodians.

We then returned to the city, the mosque, the place of faith of the genii; the birthplace of Bibi Fatimah (God be pleased with her !), the most favourite daughter of the Prophet; the residence of Bibi Khadijah, the Prophet's place of devotion; and the stone which addressed the Prophet on the following occasion. When he was hastening for prayers one morning, Satan (the devil) said unto him—"The prayer is over." Resting his elbow against a wall, on which the impress of it still exists, the Prophet stood aghast, when a stone on the opposite wall was by God's power gifted with speech, and addressing the Prophet assured him it was Satan deceiving him. The Prophet then proceeded to the mosque and found the people waiting for him. We returned home at 2 P. M., caused the maulud to be read, and fed some poor people at Abu Bakar's house.

19th Zikadah.—Wednesday, 6th December.

I and my son, Ghulam Ahmed, together with 36 pilgrims from Bhopal, accompanied by four lads sent over by our Mutawif, started at 8 o'clock for Jabal Sur. Southwards, not far from the city, is a large, deep tank and next to it is a garden of some date trees and vegetables belonging to Syed Abdallah, Sharif of Makkah. Leaving this on our right we ascended and descended a hill, then proceeded into the valley for about a mile, when we again came to a mountain, which having traversed we walked some three miles more in the sandy low ground, till we had reached the skirts of the Jabal Sur. There were a few donkeys carrying some other pilgrims who had come by another way. There is generally a coffee house opened here, but at that time there was none. Then we began to ascend this rough stony pathless mountain. Some young able-bodied men ascended without much difficulty, but several aged, decrepit people found it very fatiguing, and had to make frequent stoppages to gather strength to proceed. In this way they succeeded in coming up in time, when they refreshed themselves with water and a smoke. There was but a single young woman with our party, and who did not appear fatigued in the least. Here is a cave open at ends like a tunnel, but the entrance is about a cubit long and a span high, cut out in a solid block of stone through which the Prophet passed, and it has therefore become customary for all visitors to follow his example. All our party as well as others crept through the hole, except two men who could not succeed in it, notwithstanding their strenuous exertions in their anxiety to conform to the practice mentioned. Having passed to the other side, we repeated two prostration prayers and supplicated benedictions. The hollow space was insufficient to admit one standing upright. We then proceeded to another spot, rather spacious and open on one side, where also we said prayers, and ate something sweet, then we prepared to return. We descended the mountain by sitting and sliding down, there being no road whatever. Therefore, when we reached the bottom, we did not feel as fatigued as when ascending. We returned home by the same road by which we had gone.

20th Zikadah.—Thursday, 7th December.

At 8 o'clock in the morning the inside of the Kabatullah (the House of God) was washed, and the small brooms used for that purpose were thrown away, which the pilgrims outside scrambled for with a view to carry them home as sacred relics. Some people were so poor that they sold the brooms thus obtained for money. People consider it meritorious to wash their faces with, and even drink, a little of the water which flowed or was thrown out after washing.

21st Zikadah.—Friday, 8th December.

We heard that subscriptions were being raised for Turkey, and intimations to that effect were pasted at the gates of the Haram-i-Sharif (the sacred mosque). In the afternoon I saw Haji Husain Abdullah entering the court, and I followed him. I saw several people giving in their subscriptions.
